

Curriculum Vitae

Personal Data

Name: K.L. Kong

Date received PhD: May 1976

Lecturer, Department of Psychology, The University of Hong Kong from September 1987 to August 31, 2004

Honorary Associate Professor, Department of Psychology, the University of Hong Kong
from September 1, 2004 to August 31, 2009

Key Accomplishments, Expertise and Research Areas

Speech recognition, constructivist psychology.

Publications and Research Outputs

5 important publications

Kong, K.L., Fung, Y.M., & Wasserman, G.S. (1980). Filter-mediated color vision with one visual pigment. Science, 207, 783-786.

Kong, K.L., & Wasserman, G.S. (1982). Wavelength discrimination behavior in the grasshopper Phlaeoba, Vision Research, 22, 757-765.

Wasserman, G.S., & Kong, K.L. (1974). Illusory correlation of brightness enhancement and transients in the nervous system. Science, 184, 911-913.

Wasserman, G.S. & Kong, K.L. (1979). Absolute timing of mental activities. The Behavioral and Brain Sciences, 2, 243-304.

Kong, K.L. (1994). Spectral analysis of amplitude envelopes of bandpass filtered speech. Journal of Acoustical Society of America, 96(5), Pt. 2.

Awards

Best Teacher Award