SCHOOL OF MODERN LANGUAGES AND CULTURES
THE UNIVERSITY OF HONG KONG

Murakami Fuminobu Memorial Prize in Japanese Studies
2017-18 Call for Submissions

To honor their late colleague Mr. Murakami Fuminobu (1951-2011), the Department of Japanese Studies and the School of Modern Languages and Cultures at the University of Hong Kong established the Murakami Fuminobu Memorial Prize in Japanese Studies in February 2012.

The Prize shall be awarded annually under the following regulations:

1. The Prize shall be known as “Murakami Fuminobu Memorial Prize in Japanese Studies.”
2. In keeping with Murakami Fuminobu’s lifelong devotion to the study of Japanese language, literature, thought, film, and culture, one annual award will be offered to a Japanese Studies essay, poem, or other form of expression that best exemplifies excellence in the broadly understood fields of scholarship. The submission may be written in either Japanese or English, and the winning entry will be published on the Japanese Studies website.

Submissions may include term papers, essays, original poetry, translations, projects, reportage, and film and literary criticism written for a JAPN course.

The competition will be held annually and judged by members of the Memorial Essay Prize Committee. The winner will receive the award at the SMLC Award Ceremony.

3. There shall be one prize of the value of HK$1,000 annually.

Instructions for submission
