Professor James LAM
Faculty of Engineering
The University of Hong Kong

Professor J. Lam received a BSc (1st Hons.) degree in Mechanical Engineering from the University of Manchester, and the MPhil and PhD degrees from the University of Cambridge. His main research contributions are in the areas of control engineering and systems theory. He is a Croucher Scholar and Fellow, and is a recipient of the Outstanding Researcher Award of the University of Hong Kong. In 2015, he was a recipient of the Second Class State Natural Science Award. Professor Lam is Fellow of Institute of Electrical and Electronic Engineers, Fellow of Institution of Engineering and Technology, Fellow of Institute of Mathematics and Its Applications, Fellow of Institution of Mechanical Engineers, and Fellow of The Hong Kong Institution of Engineers. He is Editor-in-Chief of IET Control Theory and Applications and Journal of The Franklin Institute.
